Barrinha (Brazil)

Users Rating 3/5: ★★★☆☆

Type: beach

Reliability: fairly consistent

Best Swell: S

Offshore Wind: S

Barrinha in EspÃ-rito Santo is a fairly exposed beach break that has reasonably consistent surf, although summer tends to be mostly flat. Offshore winds are from the south. Most of the surf here comes from groundswells and the best swell direction is from the south. The beach breaks offer lefts and rights. A fairly popluar wave that can sometimes get crowded Watch out for dangerous rips.