The map illustrates the Andaman and Nicobar Islands, divided into three main island groups: North Andaman, Middle Andaman, and South Andaman. The Nicobar Islands are shown to the south. Key locations include Port Blair (the capital), Port Conswallis, Mayabunder, and various smaller islands like Coco Islands, Narcondam, and Barren. The map also shows the Andaman Sea to the east, the Bay of Bengal to the west, and the Indian Ocean to the south. Major cities like Kolkata and Chennai are marked on the mainland. The map includes labels for various channels and waters, such as the Coco Channel, North Channel, and South Channel. The Andaman Sea is labeled in the center, and the Bay of Bengal is labeled to the west. The Indian Ocean is labeled to the south. The map also shows the location of the Andaman and Nicobar Islands relative to the mainland of India.
