

Huadian City

This map illustrates the geographical context of the nuclear power plant at Huadian City. The plant is located in the central part of Jilin Province, near the border with Liaoning to the south. It is situated approximately halfway between the provincial capital Changchun to the west and the city of Jilin to the east. To the north, it is close to the Heilongjiang River and the city of Jiamusi. The surrounding area is densely populated with smaller towns and villages, such as Shizui, Hulan, and Panshi. The map also shows the proximity of the North Korea-China border, with cities like Chongjin and Helong visible to the northeast. The terrain is varied, with both flat plains and more rugged mountainous regions to the west and north.
