

Badoc Island Lefts

(Philippines)

Users Rating 2/5: ★★☆☆☆

Type: reef

Reliability: consistent

Best Swell: N

Offshore Wind: ESE

Badoc Island Lefts in West Luzon is an exposed reef break that has consistent surf. Winter is the optimum time of year for surfing here. The best wind direction is from the east southeast. Usually gets local windswells, but groundswells do happen and the optimum wave angle is from the north. Even when there are waves, it's not likley to be crowded. Take care of rocks, seaweed.