

This is a comprehensive political map of China, detailing its provincial boundaries and administrative divisions. The map includes labels for all 22 provinces, five autonomous regions (Xinjiang, Tibet, Inner Mongolia, Guangxi, Yunnan), and two special administrative regions (Hong Kong and Macau). Major cities are indicated by different symbols based on their population size, as defined in the legend. The map also shows neighboring countries such as Russia, Mongolia, India, Nepal, Bhutan, Myanmar, Laos, Vietnam, Thailand, Philippines, South Korea, North Korea, Japan, and Taiwan. Significant geographical features like the Gobi Desert, Qinghai Plateau, and various rivers and lakes are labeled. A scale bar at the top left indicates distances up to 600 km, and a small inset map at the bottom left shows China's location within Asia. The copyright notice at the top left reads "© 2009 Ezilon.com All Right Reserved".

[illegible][illegible]

- [illegible]

[illegible][illegible][illegible][illegible]