

A map showing a road network. A red line, likely a highway, runs diagonally from the bottom left towards the top right. A yellow dot is located on this red line. To the left of the yellow dot, the road is labeled '316' in a red box. Below the yellow dot, the text 'Xing'an' is written. To the right of the yellow dot, the text 'Ankang' is written. The background is light gray with some faint lines representing other roads or terrain.
