

A detailed map of Marlborough, Massachusetts, and its surrounding areas. The map shows the city of Marlborough in the center, with Marlborough Junction to its south. Surrounding towns include Hudson to the north, East Berlin to the northwest, South Berlin to the west, Chapinville to the southwest, Woodside to the south, Southborough to the southeast, and Fayville to the east. The map also depicts various geographical features such as the Assabetts River National Wildlife Refuge, Sudbury State Forest, Hop Brook, and several reservoirs including Lake Bannock, Lake William, and the Sudbury Reservoir. Major roads and highways are shown as black lines, and water bodies are colored blue. The map is oriented with North at the top.