

A stylized map of East Asia. South Korea is shown in light blue on the left. Japan is shown in dark blue on the right, with its main islands labeled. Tsushima Island is a small dark blue landmass between South Korea and Japan, with a black silhouette of a dinosaur on it. Kyushu is the southernmost of the main Japanese islands shown. In the top right corner, there is a circular inset map of the world with a white circle highlighting the location of the main map area.
