

Red dots show the districts where the study was conducted