

A map of a region in China, showing a network of roads and rivers. The map is oriented with North at the top. In the upper left, there are several blue, irregular shapes representing lakes or reservoirs. A network of thin grey lines represents roads, with some thicker lines indicating major routes. A prominent red line runs vertically through the center of the map. Another red line runs horizontally across the bottom. A yellow dot marks a specific location. Text labels are present: 'Yulin' in large black font, 'Yulin' in smaller black font above it, 'Kangning' in black font to the right, and 'Lishi' in black font at the bottom right. Red rectangular boxes with white numbers '210', '307', and '302' are placed along the roads.
