

A map of Russia and surrounding regions. Russia is colored in a solid orange-brown. To the west, parts of Europe are shown in green. To the south, Central Asia and the Middle East are visible in shades of green and tan. The Arctic Ocean is at the top in light blue. The city of Severodvinsk is marked with a small yellow square in the northwest, near the Baltic Sea. The text 'SEVERODVINSK' is written in white capital letters next to the square.
