

A detailed map of the Augusta, Georgia area. The city of Augusta is prominently labeled in the center, with a red dot marking its location. To the north, the Savannah River is shown flowing into the Atlantic Ocean. Major highways are depicted with orange lines and numbered shields: 16, 17, 20, 278, 47, 520, 78, 88, 121, and 64. Numerous towns and cities are labeled, including Martinez, North Augusta, Beech Island, Fort Gordon, and Aiken. The map also shows the South Fork Edisto River and various smaller water bodies. The overall layout shows the city's position relative to the river and the surrounding regional infrastructure.