

A map of the Canary Islands, showing the main islands of Tenerife, Gran Canaria, Lanzarote, and Fuerteventura. The islands are colored in a light yellow or cream color, set against a light blue background representing the ocean. The island of Tenerife is the largest and is located in the center. A red dot is placed on the northern coast of Tenerife, near the town of Gūira de Melena. The text "Gūira de Melena" is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font next to the red dot.
