

A map showing a light blue river flowing from the top left towards the bottom right. The river has several meanders. In the upper right section of the river, there is a small black airplane icon pointing upwards, with the text "Usinsk Airport" in bold black font above it. Just below the airplane icon, the word "Usinsk" is written in a smaller, grey font next to a small grey circle. Further down the river, towards the bottom left, is another small grey circle with the word "Pechora" written next to it in a grey font. The background of the map is a solid light beige color.
